April 6, 2007 - Disability, Ethics, and Psychotherapy

Seminar to be held at:

Thayer Public Library, Program Room – 2nd Floor, 798 Washington Street, Braintree, MA 02184

Learning Objectives:

1. Participants will begin to understand the confluences between feminism, ableism, GLBT concerns, and other multicultural influences on relational therapy.
2. Participants will acquire an understanding of the history of the disability rights movement, and how this population's postmodern perspective dovetails with family therapy practices.
3. Participants will be provided with a description of the burgeoning effects of Disability Studies on genetic counseling and family therapy.
4. Starting points in therapeutic conversations with persons with disabilities will also be detailed.

Presenter: Stephen Duclos, CRC, LMFT, is currently the Director of the South Shore Family Health Collaborative, LLC, in Quincy, and also formed The Occupational Rehabilitation Group in Cambridge in 1976. This is his 34th year of working with persons with disabilities and their families.

3 CEUs will be available for LMFTs, LMHCs, and LICSWs
